WINE & SPIRITS PORTFOLIO
2025-2026

Dear friends,

As we reflect on the past year, we want to take a moment to express our heartfelt gratitude for your support and loyalty during this challenging time.

As we uncork 2025, our team is thrilled to present our carefully curated collection of exceptional wines and spirits that embody the artistry and tradition of their craft. This year's catalogue showcases a diverse selection, featuring a brand-new strategic partnership with the renowned Italian Importer, ENOTRIA, innovative categories such as gascon single grain whisky MILHÔC and premade cocktails.

From the sun-kissed vineyards of Italy to the artisanal distilleries of France, our offerings reflect the rich tapestry of flavors and stories behind each bottle. Whether your customer is a seasoned connoisseur or a curious newcomer, our catalogue invites them to explore and discover unique blends that promise to delight the palate and elevate any occasion.

Join us on this journey as we celebrate the passion and dedication of the artisans who bring these exceptional beverages to life.

Cheers to a year filled with new discoveries and unforgettable moments!

GIN

Better Gin. Safer Elephants!

Elephant Gin produces award-winning handcrafted premium gin products made with rare African botanicals and flavor profiles unlike any other gins on the market. While its story started in South Africa, Elephant Gin is handmade in Germany with a focus on the highest quality production standards.

The home of Elephant Gin is based in Wittenburg, a small village nestled between Berlin and Hamburg. Here, all the products are handcrafted in small batches and using the traditional method of copper still distillation in an Arnold Holstein still. All botanicals are then macerated for a whole day to extract the optimal level of flavor. Another key botanical are fresh apples from the orchards surrounding the distillery.

The topic of sustainability and social responsibility is reflected in all facets of the company; from waste reduction and innovative recycling initiatives to smarter bar initiatives as well as furthering education and providing work opportunities in wildlife conservation.

An unknown category that adds fun and complexity to a cocktail! Jennifer

ELEPHANT GIN

The founders were inspired to create Elephant Gin following their own adventures in Africa. They strongly believe that this generation has a responsibility to support the African wildlife today, so others can continue to enjoy it in the future.

With every bottle sold, Elephant Gin contributes 15% of bottle profits to foundations that are devoted to the conservation of the African elephant.

Mezcal Matra

OAXACA, MEXICO

NY, NJ, DC, MD

Matra: Mother tradition

Mezcal Matra arose from the need to preserve the tradition of mezcal production, our palenque (distillery) made its first mezcal in 1845, distilling for many years what would be the local consumption of this spirit. It was not until 2011 that the first steps were taken to start a family project with the experience of their distillery's mezcal masters. The name Matra comes from a conjunction of words, Mother and Tradition. Honoring the ancestral techniques for its elaboration and Mayahuel goddess of fertility and family.

Located in the valley of Santiago Matatlán, Oaxaca, the distillery collaborates with various local mezcal masters and their families, making Matra a sustainable project that provides benefits to the less favored communities of Oaxaca.

Matra is an agricultural mezcal, proud of its origin with character that only mezcal possesses. Espadín Capón's agaves are grown minimum 10 years over the regions of Santiago Matatlan, Cuilapam, Tlacolula Valley. "Capón" refers to the act of cutting the quote (flowering stalk), which redirects energy to the center of the piña and provides a strong sugar concentration.

Habitation Saint Etienne (HSE) was first established in 1938 and modelled after “La Maugee”, a sugar refinery from the 19th century and located in Martinique, French West Indies – home of the most famous Agricole rums. This style of rum is predominantly made there from fresh-pressed sugar cane juice rather than molasses. The resulting spirit retains much of the sugar cane’s grassy qualities and are regulated in Martinique by a French AOC.

The architectural structure of HSE reflects a typical farm in Martinique, which was run by several families over time. Initially bought by Amédée Aubéry in 1882, a famous figure in the local economy, the property came into the possession of the Simonnets’ in 1909 before José Hayot assumed control in 1994.

HSE rums are crafted from 12 different sugarcane varieties, all recognized by the AOC specifications. After being cut and crushed, the resulting sugarcane juice is fermented for 24 to 36 hours and distilled in traditional creole column still, up to 75% ABV. HSE has built its reputation amongst rum lovers thanks to its creativity and aging knowledge. The estate is home to more than 6,000 casks, experiencing various toasting methods and origins, which include Bourbon, Sherry, Cognac, etc. HSE has also recently been recognized for their white rums which are made from select parcels.

Château de Laubade

BAS-ARMAGNAC

Château de Laubade was built in 1870 and is today the premier Armagnac property with 260 acres of single vineyard growing in the heart of the noblest area of the appellation: Bas Armagnac. The vine cultivation is environment friendly and the agriculture is sustainable. Château de Laubade is certified Terra Vitis.

The single and continuous distillation is home made in a custom tailored column still (Alambic). The wines, exclusively produced from the property's vineyard, are distilled grape varietal by grape varietal. The cellar Master carefully oversees and guarantees the finest maturation of the brandies, vintage by vintage, grape varietal by grape varietal. He uses 400-liter casks, exclusively made of Gascony black oak carefully selected in the surrounding forests. Laubade is the only Armagnac house having its own cooperage!

Château Montifaud

COGNAC, PETITE CHAMPAGNE

Château Montifaud has belonged to the Vallet Family for six generations. The term “Château” has always been a legal title that remains tied to their history, their vineyard and their cognac. The vineyard was created in 1837 by Augustin and has seen the succession of Pierre, Maurice, Louis and Michel. Laurent came to join his father and grandfather in October, 2000.

According to the family tradition, when a son joins his father, a part of the cognac distilled in that year is set preciously aside and will only be sold by the future generations. Thus it is that in the darkness of their «paradise» cellar that lie Dames-Jeannes of Cognac skillfully created by Pierre and Maurice Vallet, waiting to be released, a handful at a time, to a lucky few.

Incredible Cognac, can be used in cocktails, but is delicious on its own. Patrick

The Château Montifaud unique quality is the result of:

- An exceptional terroir: Petite Champagne is one of the most exclusive regions of Cognac
- An extreme attention to the winemaking process: rapid fermentation, with precise temperature control
- A careful selection of each wine and its allocation towards a specific aging time
- An expert distillation on the lees, cut with precision
- An aging process meant to emphasize the terroir and not the wood
- A slow and gentle reduction of the cognacs using «faibles» to keep all the perfumes intact
- For each cuvee a much longer aging than requested by the appellation

Christian Drouin

GIN & CALVADOS, PAYS D'AUGE

Christian Drouin Senior spent his first 20 years at the estate without selling a single bottle. His vision was to focus solely on producing and aging the very best Calvados the world had known, which allowed the estate to possess the world's largest collection of vintage Calvados, to this day. Christian Junior and his son, Guillaume, are managing the estate together, one of the greatest gems in the AOC Calvados Pays d'Auge.

Their unique production process is sustainable since the first day, making the Calvados Drouin one of the most eco-friendly spirits in the world. Drouin owns two organic orchards exclusively composed of traditional tall trunks and representing over 35 apple varieties. Neighboring cows graze to help fertilizing the soil and enhancing the eco-system.

Innovation is at the heart of Drouin's philosophy, using a variety of different casks (Porto, Sherry, Wine, etc.) to age and finish their single vintage collection. More recently, Guillaume also broke traditional codes of Calvados by developing "Le Gin", "Pira" and the "Experimental Range" – a myriad of collaborations with international leading distilleries. Today, Christian Drouin is the most awarded producer of Calvados.

Distillerie Meyer

WHISKY & EAU DE VIE

The Meyer distillery is located in the heart of the valley of Villé, in the hamlet of Hohwarth. Like many distillers, its founder, Fridolin Meyer, had specialized in traditional white spirits typical of the northeast of France, such as Kirsch, Mirabelle, and Marc de Gewurztraminer.

In 1975, Fridolin's son, Jean-Claude, took over the distillery. In 2009, the F. Meyer distillery was the most decorated in France, totalling 153 medals (including 70 gold medals) won at the General Agricultural Competition of Paris in their 50 years of existence.

After investing in new facilities, including three new stills, the distillery announced that it would begin manufacturing its own whisky. In November 2007 they marketed the first bottles of whisky, separated into two versions: a single malt and a blend (named "blend superior"), both seven years of age.

The process of malting the grain is entrusted to an Alsatian brewer Brasserie Saverne, who practices this technique for beer. This distillation process is typical of the Highland Scotch whiskeys. For Meyer, distillation is doubled and performed in copper stills, while the aging is done in former Sauternes casks.

Domaine Henri Giraud

CHAMPAGNE, Aÿ

A contemporary of Henri IV and his descendants, the Hémart family settled permanently in Aÿ, the cradle of Champagne, at the beginning of the seventeenth century. Claude Giraud, 12th generation of the Giraud-Hémart family, today presides over the destiny of this Champagne House. In 1990, he renewed the tradition of ageing the estate wines in oak barrels from the Argonne Forest.

Each year, Sebastien Le Golvet, the Cellar Master of the house, selects the most beautiful oaks of the Argonne forest and leads the toasting himself. This delicate work is the last precious touch of the grande cuvees. The saltiness, intensity and aromatic complexity of Champagne Henri Giraud make it one of the most exquisite expressions of the region. Of its 250,000 bottles, only a few thousand bottles comprise its grande cuvees.

The whole vineyard practices sustainable farming, and the estate was granted the high environmental value (HVE) certification.

Joseph Perrier was founded in 1825 by a young Châlons en Champagne native entrepreneur, and run by the same family since 6 generations. The galleries are of Gallo-Roman origin and extend over three kilometers in length. The chalk is pierced with skylights, ensuring optimal natural ventilation.

Bottles lie aging on laths and in pupitres in the galleries which are located next to the winery and the production lines. These galleries are located all on one level sheltered within the hill overlooking the House and are protected by their arboretum.

The Fourmon family owns and manages 22 hectares of vineyards in Cumières and Hautvillers. They harvest only the best through meticulous selection and picking by hand in small baskets to preserve the delicacy and quality of the grapes.

The House of Joseph Perrier is an individual and historic one. Each champagne is carefully made to demonstrate the precise and particular style of the cuvée. In addition to the Royal Cuvées, supplied to Queen Victoria and King Edward VII, they have created many special vintage champagnes.

Autréau De Champillon

CHAMPAGNE

A beautiful story since 1670

The Autréau story began in 1670 in the village of Champillon, where the family began to grow grapes on their estate while rising to prominence in the art world. After being run by Eric, Gerald's son, for 40 years, the winery is now led by grandson Laurent Autréau. The three generations still collaborate to create Grands Crus and 1er Crus.

Sustainable viticulture

Aware of the stakes of climate change, they have transitioned towards sustainable viticulture. Autréau is currently a member of the Magister Network, a viticultural monitoring network that limits the maximum number of interventions and mandates the use of only environmentally friendly products.

LIMOUX, FRANCE

Freshness, depth and roundness

The secret of their wine's character lies in the combination of Limoux's three terroirs, which form the backbone of the cuvées: freshness from the Pyrenees, depth from the ocean, and roundness from the Mediterranean.

LangeTwins is a family-owned and farm-first winery in the Lodi appellation of California, committed to cultivating a lasting impact.

Great wine starts in the vineyard. This philosophy, coupled with their focus on sustainability, informs their viticulture decisions across the regions in which they farm.

Brad and Randall Lange, twins and fourth generation Lodi wine-grape farmers, grew up and raised their families on the land they still farm to this day. Their respect for the land and passion for preserving it for future generations is our foundation and influences our everyday practices.

In 2005 the fifth-generation made a lifelong commitment to the family company, joining the business with roles spanning across both the winery and viticulture teams. It was at this time, they built the winery - a generational decision to ensure their farm, communities, and the agricultural way of life thrives.

Founded in 1971, Husch vineyards are comprised of some of the earliest varietal plantings on the valley floor. In 1967 Tony and Gretchen Husch bought the 60-acre Nunn ranch between Philo and Navarro on Highway 128.

Owned and operated by the 3rd Generation

Today Husch Vineyards remains owned and operated by the 3rd Generation of the Oswald family: Zac Robinson and Amanda Robinson Holstine. Winemaking is under the direction of Brad Holstine (Amanda's husband). Through the years Husch has modernized and expanded, but it has never lost its initial rustic charm or reputation for great wines.

Be Forever Wild

CALIFORNIA, RUSSIAN RIVER VALLEY

Taste the terroir. live life to the fullest and Be Forever Wild!

Their vision and mission is to preserve the natural environment of their vineyards and to let the grapes fully express that sense of place. Nature-inspired, low sulfite and low intervention winemaking allows the grapes to produce wines that perfectly reflect their character. Sustainable farming and winemaking practices along with a dedication to healthy viticultural practices produces wines of unusually clean, expressive flavor.

Ecocentrism is a philosophy that emphasizes the importance of all living things including the importance of their environment. It elevates the importance of plants, animals, and other organisms as well as non-living things such as water and soil.

Balverne

CALIFORNIA, SONOMA

NY, NJ, DC, MD, VA

“One of the first wineries in Sonoma County to achieve true cult status was Balverne Cellars.”
Wine Spectator, 2012

In 1992 Renee Stein and her late husband Bob purchased the famed Balverne Cellars estate and brand. Balverne had a powerful run in the 70’s and 80’s but had begun to falter so Renee and Bob set about restoring the estate and the brand to its former prominence.

Having revitalized the vineyard Renee and Bob in 1997 then transferred a full 50% of the 710 acre property to the Sonoma County Open Space Trust in perpetuity as a permanent Nature Preserve for the estate’s native wildlife and plantlife.

That act alone gave rise to a major improvement in the native terroir of the surrounding vineyards. Concurrently low intervention, native yeast fermentation by winemaker Alex Holman delivers wines of uniquely true expressions of the 16 different varieties of grapes grown on the property. The estate straddles both the Russian River and Chalk Hill AVA’s and provides Balverne with a superior toolbox to make some of the most stylish wines in the county.

Ten Sisters, one brother

The ten Sisters and their brother are fourth-generation New Zealanders and their ancestors were among the first settlers of the southern tip of the South Island of New Zealand. Their parents, Robert and Mary would have 11 children, only one son. As adults, the 11 children often traveled around the world with their parents, sharing and developing their great love for food and wine. Later in life, they moved to the sunniest part of New Zealand, Marlborough, and planted a vineyard on their land, fulfilling Mary's longtime dream.

MENDOZA, VALLE DE UCO

DiamAndes. a pun of «diamante» and Andes!

DiamAndes wines reflect the philosophy of the winery:
Fruity and fresh, elegant and balanced wines with great personality.

A Single Estate nestled in the foothills of the Andes Montains

In 2005, the Bonnie family, owner of the renowned classified growth Château Malartic-Lagravière in Pessac-Léognan (Bordeaux) became part of the Argentinean adventure through the purchase of a single estate of 130 hectares nestled in the foothills of the Andes Mountains at an altitude of 3600 feet a.s.l. This is where the Bodega DiamAndes was born, in Mendoza, in the Uco Valley as a member of the prestigious Clos de los Siete.

A unique terroir, a combined know-how, a sustainable and qualitative farming

Thanks to its unique terroir, combined with the Bordeaux know-how of the Bonnie family and the local expertise of its Argentinean team, Diamandes creates distinguished and stylish wines.

The vinegrowing is conducted with sustainable practices and global environmental care, and since 2019 the vineyard is transitioning to an organic farming. Everything in this Estate Winery is made towards achieving the highest quality: Hand picking, hand double sorting after cooling the grapes in cold storage chambers, complete gravitational process (from the harvest to the bottle), fermentation in small temperature-controlled stainless-steel tanks.

Highest Northern Hemisphere vineyard

The vision behind Ixsir is to reveal the best terroirs of Lebanon, some of which had been forgotten for centuries. Cultivated with respect to sustainable agriculture, Ixsir's vineyards are spread across the mountains of Lebanon on clay-calcareous and limestone soil from Batroun to Jezzine, benefiting from the unique microclimates Lebanon has to offer. Ixsir's vineyards sit at an altitude of 1,800 meters, making them the highest in the entire Northern Hemisphere.

Expert consultant and winemaker

Hubert De Bouard, co-owner of Chateau Angelus, is the consultant winemaker, and Gabriel Rivero, former winemaker of Chateau Sociando-Mallet, is the chief winemaker of the estate.

Winemaking occurs on the hills of Batroun where a traditional 17th century Lebanese house presides over a contemporary winery with sustainability at its core.

RIOJA

Cristina Ruiz
Co-Owner

The family Ruiz Ijalba planted their first vineyards in the 70's recovering poor soils very well adapted to cultivate high quality vines. From the beginning, the Ruiz Family had a big commitment to the preservation of their environment. It's no surprise that in 1998, Viña Ijalba became the first organic winery in Rioja. Their dedication to both sustainability and innovation led them to cultivate indigenous varietals on the brink of extinction to create unique wines.

The Bodegas Gallegas was born more than 60 years ago as a personal project of its founder Manuel Vázquez, and has been growing since then, but maintaining the same family and traditional character from the beginning and with a common goal: the passion for wine.

They have been able to maintain the methods of elaboration and harvesting of Albariño based on the winemaking tradition of the Rías Baixas, which has more than 9 centuries of history. Their vineyards are under the influence of Atlantic ocean and grapes reach its maximum potential due to the unique climate giving rise to musts with balanced acidity and wines with a complex aromatic potential and high freshness.

Viña Leirado's Mencía hails from the Ribeira Sacra, where the Mencía grape offers vibrant red fruit flavors, balanced acidity, and smooth tannins. A perfect match for grilled meats, charcuterie, or Mediterranean cuisine.

Derrick Neleman, Founder

A blend of indigenous & classic grapes

They use indigenous varietals and blends of Verdil, Tardana, Macabeo, Monastrell, Bobal, Tempranillo, Marselan, and Garnacha (which hark back to Spanish wine's origins) combined with the main international grapes (such as Chardonnay, Sauvignon Blanc, Viognier, Muscat, Riesling, Cabernet Sauvignon or Merlot).

An ideal location

Neleman's mature vineyards are in the hills to the East of Valencia at Casas del Rey. They are on small land terraces surrounded by olive and almond trees, and Parque Natural de las Hoces del Cabriel, a UNESCO World Heritage site.

Modern wines elaborated with passion

Overseen and tended by Spanish Master Organic Winemaker Diego Fernández Pons, the vines have been carefully planted to reap the best from the soil that gives them such foundation and heart. This also guarantees a delicious taste; these are modern wines with no excessive oak or over-mature overtones, and balance, warmth, richness and freshness are paramount. Elegance is always the ambition, and passion is the most sought-after quality of all.

2025 NEWS!

We're excited to launch in 2025 our new partnership with Enotria, an Italian importer representing 20 estates and over 50 new wines!

A WORD FROM ENOTRIA FOUNDER

I founded Enotria in 2008 in Brooklyn, in the same room that later became my twins' bedroom. Since day one, the vision has been to select wineries crisscrossing the Italian boot and to meet and taste as much as we could. Attending numerous wine fairs throughout the years, we nurtured our mantra to pick "wines we like, people we like, prices we like". After many years in the market, we finally decided to look for an ally to strengthen our position and growth in the wine business. One of the early encounters in our search happened to be Baron Francois - established and well respected French wines importer. From the beginning we had the feeling we met our partner! A portfolio made with small-medium size estates and family owned, with an eye for sustainable-organic agriculture. We also appreciated the energetic and dynamic environment of our new partner. And here we are! Enotria's portfolio (all Italian wines except Fidora, Velenosi & Botter) is now harmoniously part of Baron Francois' selection.

Cavalier Bartolomeo

PIEDMONT

Cavalier Bartolomeo is a small estate located in Castiglione Falletto, in the heart of Barolo, Langhe. Founded in 1924 by Bartolomeo Borgogno, who earned the title «Cavaliere» for his service during World War I, the winery is now run by his grandson Dario, alongside his wife Marraja and son, Alex. The estate is renowned for its dedication to Nebbiolo. This winery is the definition of 'garagiste'. A small cellar run by father & son. The cellar recently saw an addition of new barriques to their old big barrels.

PIEDMONT

The Piazzo family has deep roots in the Langhe region. Armando Piazzo and Gemma Veglia, both from farming families, began their winemaking journey after World War II. Despite struggles, they persevered, acquiring vineyards in Barbaresco and Barolo. Today, the estate is based in San Rocco Seno d'Elvio, near Alba, and spans 70 hectares, with vineyards in Barbaresco, Barolo, and Roero. Gemma continues to play a key role, supported by daughter Marina, her husband Franco Allaria, and their sons Simone and Marco, ensuring the family's winemaking legacy continues.

Fattoi is a family estate located on the southern slope of Montalcino, founded by Ofelio Fattoi in the mid-60s. After working at Poggio alle Mura, Ofelio purchased land and bottled the first Brunello in 1979. Today, Fattoi spans 70 hectares, with 10 dedicated to vineyards and the rest to olive trees, grain fields, forest, and a pond. The estate benefits from a perfect microclimate, with Mount Amiata protecting it and the sea 30 miles away providing breezes. The soil is rich in clay, slates, and alluvial sediments which are ideal for Sangiovese Grosso.

Pietroso is a winery founded by Domenico Berni in the 1970s and located near the walled center of Montalcino. His dream was to craft a soulful Sangiovese from the stony estate of Podere Pietroso. After receiving encouragement from friends, he expanded the winery, and today, his nephew, wife and their children continue the tradition. Pietroso produces elegant, high-altitude Sangiovese from four vineyards between 1200 and 1500 feet above sea level. The «Galestro» soil and aging in Slavonian casks and French tonneaux contribute to the wines' exceptional elegance and complexity.

Vineyards extend among the hills that surround the splendid valley of the Tronto river. Thanks to its clayey and fertile soils, this valley has always been recognized for the vine cultivation. The family is using traditional methods but also transitioning towards natural winemaking.

Cantina Sangro

ABRUZZO

Sangro wine is crafted in central Abruzzo, between the Maiella Mountain, sunny hills, and the Trabocchi Coast, reflecting the region's natural potential and deep-rooted traditions. The vineyards, located in the Sangro River valley, a natural reserve, are mostly on the northern bank. Founded in 1971 by 110 members, Cantina Sangro began with 100 hectares of vineyards. In 2020, two cooperatives from Southern Abruzzo merged, continuing under the guidance of veteran enologist Gianni Pasquale, who has been responsible for their high-quality production for nearly three decades. Today, their wines are a testament to generations of passion and expertise.

The Pellegrino family has been a pioneer in Marsala wine production since 1880, becoming one of the island's historical wine institutions. The family's vineyards are located in the Marsala area, known for its diverse microclimates and unique terroirs such as the "paleo" beaches with sandy-clayish soil mix and the salt mines of Marsala.

Initially focused on Marsala-style wines, they now also produce high-quality dry wines. Founded by notary Paolo Pellegrino, the estate's success grew under the leadership of his wife, Josephine Despaigne, who was one of the first women to manage a winery in Sicily. Domaine de la Pinardière

MUSCADET SEVRE ET MAINE

Sèvre-et-Maine, the best terroir in Muscadet !

Christophe Olivier, the fourth generation of Domaine de la Pinardière, manages the operation today. Of the four Muscadet appellations, Sèvre-et-Maine is the largest by volume and produces the greatest quality of wine. The appellation is unique due to its hydrological makeup; it is marked by two rivers, the Sevre and the Maine, which have resulted in rich deposits of alluvial soil over thousands of years. The terroir also contains volcanic soil, which provides ample calcium, potassium, and magnesium to vines grown there, yielding abundant harvests.

Domaine du Colombier

CHINON

Family owned for five generations

The Domaine du Colombier experiences warm summers and is composed of 24 hectares of Cabernet Franc vines grown on a combination of clay-chalk and clay-siliceous soil, perfectly suited for creating hearty reds. The vineyard is located in Touraine, famous for its medieval history of kings and castles. The terroir is rich in tuffeau, a calciferous rock that aids in soil drainage, and frequently used to create subterranean wine caves for long-term storage and aging.

Chinon Domaine du Colombier is a masterpiece. Crafted from Cabernet Franc, it exudes vibrant red fruits, earthy complexity, and a velvety finish. Natalaya

Château Moncontour

VOUVRAY

The chateau boasts stunning views over the whole Loire Valley area and benefits from the unique geological composition of Vouvray, which has large deposits of porous tuffeau limestone and offers exceptional drainage. The medieval building has lived through many centuries and played host to a variety of different personalities from the court and the arts. The current facade dates back to the Renaissance period, and was built by Charles VII, who presented it to his “Dame de Beauté,” Agnès Sorel, as a gift. Since 1994, the Feray family has been restoring and preserving the chateau with enthusiasm and commitment, making it one of the most remarkable historic sites in the Loire Valley. The wine estate is one of the oldest in the Touraine region and is today featured among the most prestigious in the Loire Valley.

Domaine de la Renaudie is located in Touraine, in the heart of the Loire Valley. They are certified sustainable by Terra Vitis, an environmental organization recognized by the French Ministry of Agriculture. The protection of natural resources is one criterion; the health of the cellar master, employees, neighbors and consumers is equally important in sustainability. Domaine de la Renaudie has been operated by the same family for generations. Charlotte, the youngest member of the family now oversees the estate and its winemaking.

Domaine Marcel Langoux

POUILLY-FUMÉ

NY, NJ, DC, MD, VA

#5901/W0339

Established in 1895

Domaine Marcel Langoux is a family vineyard situated on approximately 18 hectares in the commune of Saint-Andelain, in Pouilly-Fumé. It was established in 1895 and contains 17.5 hectares of Sauvignon Blanc and 0.5 hectares of Chasselas. Today, the estate produces between 60,000 and 80,000 bottles annually, which are equally distributed in France and abroad.

Characteristic terroir

Pouilly-Fumé is characterized by the flint deposits in its terroir, which lend a distinctive smokiness to the wines grown there. The soil also contains limestone, marlstone, and various clays, which further contribute to the mineral qualities of Pouilly-Fumé wines.

Château de Tracy

POUILLY-FUMÉ

NY, NJ, DC, MD, VA

Juliette d'Assay
Owner

Château de Tracy has been run by the same family since the 14th century. Records of the property go back to 1396. In 1586, Françoise Stutt married Françoise de Bar who brought him as a dowry the seigneurie of Tracy. By their wedding, the descendants of the Comte d'Assay and his young brother, François Stutt, current owners of the Château de Tracy, get together two branches of a one and only family separated during four centuries.

The Domaine consists of 33 hectares on the slopes around the Château itself and those of Vilmo, a few kilometres away from Pouilly-sur-Loire. To the north of the Pouilly Fume area, on the hillsides which overlook the Loire, the Château de Tracy vineyard extends from "Tracy hill" to the "Champs de Cris" plateau.

Pleasant notes of fruit and a very dry flavor
Four kilometers outside of Sancerre, Michel and Laurent Thomas have a 17-hectare vineyard, planted on three different types of soil, each of which contains high deposits of limestone.

This gives their wines a fruity aroma and flavor, and makes them well-suited to be enjoyed young. White Sancerre wine comes from the hardest stone soil on the vineyard, giving it pleasant notes of fruit and a very dry flavor. This wine is bottled using traditional methods without filtration, allowing an authentic and natural taste.

Sancerre is one of the most famous white wines in France, characterized by their crispness and aromas of grass and gooseberries. Sancerre became its own appellation in 1936. The terroir of the region contains three distinct soils: chalk, limestone, and silex, which gives many Sancerre wines a slightly smokey quality.

Domaine des Caves du Prieuré is a small estate that produces high-quality and limited-batch Sancerre. The estate is located in the village of Crézancy, 7km from the town center of Sancerre.

After several years working with local wine merchants of the commune, Gilles recently decided to start bottling his own wine. He takes care for his vines with minimum intervention to ensure maximum respect for the environment.

Facing south and south-west, the vineyard is planted on three principal types of terroir: limestone (40%), white stone (40%), and silex (20%). This combination lends characteristic fruity aromas to Gilles Lesimple's wines.

ALSACE

Etienne Sipp, Owner

Created by pioneering matriarch Louise Sipp during World War I while her husband, Louis, was fighting on the Eastern Front, the estate is now led by Etienne Sipp, her grandson.

The first plot purchased by Louise, part of Kirchberg Hill, is today recognized as one of three Grand Crus near the town of Ribeauvillé. Due to a combination of the ample sunlight on the mountainside and the clay and mineral composition of the alpine soil, Kirchberg wines are renowned for their exceptional richness and ripeness.

All the vines are planted at high altitude and 80% of them are on surrounding hills, ensuring they all benefit from the unique microclimate created between the Vosges Mountains and the Rhine River.

An exceptional Alsace Riesling that truly embodies the terroir and craftsmanship, with crisp acidity and minerality. Jennifer

Traditional family character since 1850

Circa 1850, Honoré Geoffroy established his first vineyards in the Chablis region. Alain Geoffroy expanded the property into a full estate. A worthy heir to previous generations, he committed to keeping the traditional family character. Backed by the whole family's hard work towards the development of the estate, the wines have received many awards and distinctions over the years.

Fresh & Fruity Chablis

The estate has 50 hectares of vineyards and has gathered a young and dynamic team to produce fresh, fruity Chablis wines with a good mineral character, respecting the typicity of this exceptional terroir. The wines are bottled exclusively on the estate.

Pierrick Laroche is the energetic and very talented winemaker behind Domaine des Hâtes.

He independently manages his vineyards, large holdings in Petit Chablis, 12 hectares in Chablis, and a hectare in the heart of Maligny's Premier Cru Homme Mort, with great attention to detail.

In 2009, Pierrick eliminated pesticides and herbicides; since then, he opted to work the soil as little as possible.

His cellars are built into the side of a hill in the village enabling much of the work to be done by gravity.

In 2021, he was awarded the Young Talents Trophy for the quality of the winemaker and the excellence of his 2019 wines.

BURGUNDY

The Geantet-Pansiot estate was founded in 1954 by Edmond Geantet and Bernadette Pansiot and currently is in the hands of the 4th generation, Fabien, who has been working with his father, Vincent, since 2006.

The Domaine has steadily grown over the years, with the acquisition of 10 additional acres in Gevrey-Chambertin in 1991, and a few more plots since then in others appellations. Today, they are using sustainable practices - no herbicides or chemical fertilizers over their 32 acres of vineyards. The grapes are sorted and managed with delicacy before maturing the wine in barrel for 15 months with 30% of new wood on every cuvée.

In the hands of the 4th generation, the family continues to make beautiful and expressive wines in honor of the Gevrey-Chambertin.

Rodet, since 1887

Antoine Rodet purchased his first vineyards in 1887, just as phylloxera was ruining Burgundy and nearly destroying all its vines.

Despite the conditions, Antoine foresaw the success of the Côte Chalonnaise and did not hesitate to invest in the vineyard. He believed in the revival of one of the oldest and largely-renowned terroirs of Burgundy.

Due to the timing, however, it took several years for the estate to overcome phylloxera and begin fulfilling Antoine's vision.

Anne-Laure Hernette, winemaker

Anne-Laure Hernette, who has been in charge of the vinification of Antonin Rodet wines since Spring 2013, carefully monitors the production of all wines. Her involvement from the vineyard to bottling ensures high-quality wines that have built the house's reputation.

Antonin Rodet wines combine finesse and elegance, and highlight the natural characteristics of each wine.

An iconic estate of Brouilly

In the heart of the Beaujolais appellation, Château des Tours owns 70 hectares of vines. The exceptional terroir of Mount Brouilly, which contains pink granite soil, gives these wines a unique heartiness that is greatly sought after by specialists.

The Chateau itself originated in 1331 and was inhabited by several different noble families over the coming centuries before being purchased by its current owners in 1986, who renovated the property and transformed it into a modern vineyard. Some of the vines currently in use date back over 80 years, and the region itself has been cultivated for wine-growing since Roman times. The oldest known ancestor of Dominique Piron, Etienne Bailly, was born around 1590 AD in Morgon, under the reign of King Henry III. Over the past four centuries, there have been 14 generations of Gamay vintners in the family.

Home of Dominique Piron, Morgon is one of ten Beaujolais crus and is today known for its unique patchwork of terroirs, which include granite, clay, limestone, schist, silex, and volcanic deposits, all of which lend a signature earthy flavor to the wines produced here that is not found in any of the neighboring crus.

True to Beaujolais tradition, Dominique Piron wines are made via semi-carbonic maceration, during which whole grapes undergo a long fermentation before being pressed. This technique creates vibrant, fruit-forward wines with exceptionally low tannins.

Domaine Duclaux

RHÔNE VALLEY

NY, NJ, DC, MD, VA

"Brothers David and Benjamin Duclaux have ratcheted up their game considerably as this has become one of the best of the small estate bottlers of Côte-Rôtie." Robert Parker

Founded in 1928, the estate was bought by the great grandfather but has mainly been developed by the father, Edmond Duclaux. Today David and Benjamin work manually their 5.8 hectares of vines on the narrow terraces of the Tupin and Semons hillsides. They want their Côte-Rôtie to reflect the southern 'terroirs' of the Côte-Rôtie appellation expressing the finesse and the balance of the gneiss soils. The walls on which the vines are planted were, for some, built during the Roman period. Today, they continue to restore this heritage and cultivate their vines on these narrow terraces. In a way, history is perpetuated.

The domaine is about 39 acres. From the domaine itself, you can see the majestic rocky faces of the Dentelles de Montmirail and the little village of Gigondas.

The name of the domaine comes from the name of one of the races, Fontaine, which means «healthy fountain». Domaine de Font-Sane has opted for a sustainable culture. Fertilization is done every year by adding organic compost. These natural products help maintain the humus levels and promote good exchanges between the soil and the plant, and quality is always preferred over quantity.

Mas des Infermières

LUBERON

Filmmaker Ridley Scott and his family fell for the Luberon's charm over 30 years ago, finding their haven as Mas des Infermières in 1992. The vines of the Mas are situated at an altitude of 200 meters and the estate combines the southernmost terroir of the Rhone Valley and the characteristics of the Mediterranean climate of Haute Provence, with hot, dry summers and mild winters.

However, the Luberon massif also helps to moderate the climate, providing some protection from the strong Mistral winds that blow from the north. The large diurnal temperature variation, with hot days and cool nights, helps grapes retain acidity and develop complex flavors.

The winery also boasts a modern cellar and labels designed by Ridley Scott himself, reflecting Provençal elegance of the beautiful terroir of Luberon.

HVE certified, the estate is committed to sustainable practices and use certified bee-friendly viticulture methods. They do not use insecticides and have sown a different wild flowers to attract bees.

Château de Pourcieux

CÔTES DE PROVENCE

Watch the video!

Pourcieux is a small village in Provence at the east of Aix en Provence and the famous Sainte Victoire Mountain, which was painted many times by Paul Cezanne.

The vineyard covers 64 acres and produces five different varietals: Syrah, Grenache, Cinsault, Cabernet Sauvignon, and Vermentino. For the past 25 years, the vines have been dressed in twin “de royat” rows and elevated to protect them from the strong Mistral wind, which in turn also allows them maximum exposure to the sun.

The style of Château de Pourcieux wines is deliberately modern with a permanent commitment to respect and expression of the terroir's identity. One of the main goals is to preserve their soil, which is why they use neither chemical fertilizers nor herbicides.

I can't be objective, almost 300 years of experience makes the difference! 8th generation, my fav. Laurent

Château de la Deidière

CÔTES DE PROVENCE

The history of the Fabre family and Château de la Deidière came together after WWII when Henri Fabre acquired the property in 1961. The estate is a living Provençal postcard that still offers diverse scenery between the olive trees, woods, and scrublands, bordered by a scenic river.

In the 1960s, the vines were planted alongside tall trees and meticulous landscaping, and the vineyard became known as a place to host parties and celebrations. The importance of the art of dining in Provence gave rise to great feasts featuring the Château's wines and wild game was hunted on the grounds. The terroir was full of treasures.

The Fabre family is committed to offering high quality wines and focus on the respect of their environment. As a result of this commitment, their olive trees have been awarded the Ecocert Label and their vines are grown using sustainable farming methods.

Château de la Clapière

CÔTES DE PROVENCE, CRU CLASSÉ

NY, NJ, DC, MD, VA

A long and beautiful history

Built in the 18th century on the remains of a viticultural estate that was initially Roman then Templar, Château de la Clapière is a great Florentine-inspired fortress surrounded by annexes that had been used for farming activities. It then became the property of Elizabeth Isabella Johnstone-Gordon, a lady from a great Scottish lineage, who became the Baroness of Roissard. In 1892, the château was visited by the British Queen Victoria during her famous stay in nearby Hyères. The Queen was attracted to the site's beauty, fragrances, and in particular, the violets that grew there, which were her favorite flower.

One of the finest estates in Provence

In 1928, Charlotte Constant married Henri Fabre, founder of Maison Fabre. Henri Fabre was also the owner of Château de la Clapière. Together, they would expand the estate to become one of the finest in Provence. In 1955, 32 of 55 hectares of La Clapière's vines obtained Cru Classé status, sitting on superb terroir within an exceptional microclimate that added a floral aspect to rosés. In 1988, the matriarch of the family passed away and Château de la Clapière became dormant. The vineyard was still operational as part of Domaine Fabre's 550 hectares.

In 2006 the grandson of Henri Fabre, Henri Fabre-Bartalli, joined with Bruno Fabre-Bartalli to completely overhaul the château and its grounds. Their goal was to recreate the estate to look the way it had when Queen Victoria had visited, down to the tiniest detail. Working with over 100 craftsmen, they finished the project in 2012, exactly 110 years after Victoria's visit.

Château Les Valentines

CÔTES DE PROVENCE LA LONDE

NY, NJ, DC, MD, VA

Château Les Valentines was started by a couple that gave up everything 20 years ago to make wine in Provence. They had to start from scratch: the vineyard was poorly maintained and as the grapes were sold to the local cooperative by the previous owner, they had to build a new estate from the ground up. This blank slate was an opportunity to start fresh and convert straight away the vineyard to organic farming. The estate's name is a contraction of the owner's children names: Valentin and Clementine.

Since then, the Estate has grown to now cover 50 hectares on the coast of the Côtes de Provence Appellation. The vineyard benefits from the Mediterranean climate, sun, mistral and the influence from the sea, which makes it possible to vinify sincere, balanced and very regular wines each year.

Year after year Gilles & Pascale have devoted all their energy to create wines that highlight the wonderful terroir of La Londe les Maures: schists and ancient colluviums develop a great typicity, dominated by minerality and spices.

Domaine de l'Olivette

BANDOL

For two centuries, Domaine de l'Olivette has been under the loving protection of one family. After perfecting their wines based on local traditions of the region, they not only qualify for the AOC Bandol, but surpass the strict requirements for the designation.

Yield is deliberately kept low, at 40 hectoliters per hectare, enabling the wine to fully blossom and keep all its fragrance, body, and flavor.

At the same time, the family has not neglected keeping up-to-date with technology and aiming to new heights in expressing all the characteristics of their exceptional terroir. Temperature-controlled facilities complement the work of the oak barrels, while computerization of production data works alongside human know-how and skills, all under the watchful eye of the estate's oenological laboratory.

Famille Fabre

LANGUEDOC

NY, NJ, DC, MD, VA

In 1991, Louis Fabre was among the first wine-producers in Languedoc to pursue organic production, with his property Château Coulon. The Fabre family had lived in the region since 1605, but it was Louis' vision for the estate that led it to its present form. Motivated by a respect for the environment and desire to give the best possible wines to consumers, he helped the entire vineyard become organic. Today, the Château Coulon team is certified with the highest label for organic agriculture: Level 3 of High Environmental Value (HEV).

Louis Fabre took over the chateau and Claire, his wife, manages the oenotourism, and loves sharing her passion for organic products, and Marie, Louis' sister, joined the team in 1998. Since 2014, the 14th generation of the Fabre family has been helping the estate, and they have worked extensively to partner with new markets around the world and continue the Fabre tradition.

LANGUEDOC

Antonin Bonnet and Pierre Caizergues, hailing from winemaking Languedoc families, forged a friendship and shared dream in New York City. Inspired by a bottle of Carignan, they returned to their roots in 2016 to establish Domaine de Stricou. Committed to sustainable agriculture, they focus on resistant grape varieties and old-vine Carignan and Grenache, farming organically and prioritizing terroir-driven wines over appellation status. Their goal is to create affordable, delicious wines while pioneering open-minded solutions for future vineyard plantings, gradually expanding their estate and working with local growers to achieve their vision.

PIC SAINT-LOUP

Refreshing return to the roots of the Pic

Brigitte Jeanjean, director of Vignobles Jeanjean and 6th generation of the Jeanjean winemaking family, has always been in love with Pic St Loup, that she could see every day. Having an estate in the appellation was so obvious for the development of the Vignobles Jeanjean, and her dream came true at the end of 2019, when Vignobles Jeanjean acquired a 13 ha vineyard near the village of Corconne. The estate is organically farmed, its soil is made of calcareous splits coming from the nearby Mount Coutach. Matthieu Carliez is the technical director.

This Pic st Loup appellation has one of the highest rain levels of the Languedoc and its location at the foothills of the Cévennes mountain range protects it from strong winds. This is a region famous for producing elegant wines.

Domaine Félines Jourdan

PICPOUL DE PINET

NY, NJ, DC, MD, VA

The Domaine Félines Jourdan has belonged to the Jourdan family since 1983. Wine producers for several generations in the Languedoc area, the family has a passion for cultivating and harvesting several unique varietals that grow in the area, including Picpoul de Pinet. Their vineyard is situated at the edge of the Etang de Thau, along the Mediterranean coast, which bathes the vines in seaspray and provides ideal humidity.

The coastal climate of their terroirs, which is cooler than most of Languedoc, allows for exceptionally fresh white wines and fruity reds. This is only enhanced by the vinification process, which takes place in temperature-controlled stainless-steel vats to preserve the fruit aromas of the wines. The female winemaker of the domaine, Claude Jourdan, oversees all administration of the estate.

PAYS D'OC

Located just outside Béziers, Château de Raissac is an exceptional estate in the heart of 80 hectares of vineyards. It has been the home and passion of the Viennet family since 1828.

Today, Gustave Viennet and his wife, Marie, continue the tradition and share their attachment for this Château and their passion for great wines. Their cellar offers elegant and aromatic wines that are the product of two centuries of care and constancy.

The Château de Raissac has been a home for art and artists for several generations. Christine and Jean Viennet have brought all their creative energy to the domain. Christine, a renowned ceramist, founded a Museum of Ceramics and 19th century Arts de la Table in the beautiful old stables. Jean, a painter with exceptional creativity, displays his portraits and murals in the Château.

Domaine du Somail is an adventure that began in 2013 by three wine enthusiasts, Julie, François, and Germain. Driven by the quest for authenticity and a profound respect for nature, their estate embraces the specifics of natural winemaking and biodynamics, where each bottle bears witness to the intimate connection between the earth, plants, and the cosmos.

In the AOC Minervois, they are committed to preserving a land rich in history. They are using natural and sulfite-free winemaking, indigenous yeasts and are following the biodynamic calendar. They are preparing herbal teas and plant extracts to care for their vines. These are some examples of their environmentally friendly practices for the benefit of nature and their consumers.

Château Lastours

GAILLAC

The Château Lastours is an old estate owned by the Faramond family for over four centuries. The estate has evolved over time from a small fort overlooking the river Tarn to a chateau with four towers. The original strategic structure was embellished and redesigned in the 16th century with decorations, ornaments, and mullioned windows. Coated bricks and pebbles form a mosaic of red and white colors, characteristic of southwestern France.

Château Haut-Monplaisir

CAHORS

The Château Haut-Monplaisir owned by Cathy & Daniel Fournié and their daughter Mathilde, is one of the better-known estates in the Cahors appellation, regularly praised in the French and international press.

The 30-hectares vineyard is planted around the family home and the ageing cellars and were certified organic in 2012.

Equidistant from the Atlantic and the Mediterranean, there is a dual climate in Cahors: Oceanic until June, it becomes Mediterranean in July, making for a perfect balance between acidity and maturity. This magnificent terroir produces fleshy, concentrated, full-bodied wines.

The Malbec grape, planted in the region for over 2000 years now, has achieved worldwide renown. It expresses itself best in Cahors with its velvety tannins and the freshness that their natural acidity confers on them.

Chateau Picoron's estate began more than 2,000 years ago and since 2015, Glenda and Frank Kalyk and their Australian family are pursuing this legacy, celebrating the history of the winery and the future of the Bordeaux region.

Their wines are not a blend of acres of vines, but a transparent and honest expression of a specific place - the famous St Emilion clay-limestone ridge. The result is the true expression of their terroir. They celebrate the past and future of Merlot, the first grape variety planted in Bordeaux; Their wine is produced sustainably using organic practices, without animal products and with minimal intervention.

At Château Picoron they don't replicate, they innovate. They don't seek to be compared, but choose to express wines which are uniquely theirs to share with friends & family. Their wines are all unique expressions of Merlot, inspired by traditional French wine techniques. Harnessing the constraints upon us, they find the freedom to invent, and showcase the potential of the Merlot berry!
